About Me

Software developer with 10+ years of experience building scalable, high-performance enterprise solutions on the .NET platform. Delivered 15+ projects across CRM, workflow automation and airline operations. Specialized in clean architecture and full-stack development with C#/.NET backend and modern JavaScript frontends. Proven track record of leading backend refactors that improved performance and maintainability, mentoring development teams, and architecting solutions. Early adopter of AI-assisted and agentic coding workflows, leveraging tools like GitHub Copilot, OpenCode, and Codex to accelerate development and improve code quality.
